

All Set For Big Park Vaudeville

For the first time in the amusement history of the city, a seven-act vaudeville bill of big time features will be played in the open air Sunday evening at Aerial Amusement park. Music, dancing, pretty girls, native Hawaiian instrumentalists, and specialists will make up the big bill that will follow early evening exhibitions by noted dare-devils of the air.

An added attraction Miss Mae Riley, who has delighted her garden crowds, has been secured and she will present an entirely new program of song hits and some of her original dance creations.

Starker Pacific coast piano wizard, will be heard and seen for the first time in Memphis. Star plays the piano in every conceivable manner. Then there will be entire troupe of native Hawaiians playing their steel guitars, "yaks" and other native instruments. They will sing their native songs, and dance.

Other big features will be the Brown Brothers, Harmony trio, another big act from the Pacific coast, now making their first tour of the South; Oddie McWinders, banjo wizard; Enial, dancer of wonder dances, and Bert Alberts, who does seemingly impossible things with a cane.

Music, mirth, fun and melody will hold full sway at the park from 8.30 to 10.30. The park will open at 7 and early visitors will have the opportunity of seeing the feats of acrobats that will follow the vaudeville.

No charge will be made for boxes or grand stand seats.

Memphis Publicity Pictures Arrive

Memphis publicity galore poured into the city Saturday morning, but it will be here only long enough to be properly distributed throughout the country. A shipment of 46,100 photographic supplements of the city were received by the Chamber of Commerce as part of their campaign to advertise the city.

The supplements contain pictures of some of the most beautiful spots and largest factories and business houses in the city. One of these is a bird's-eye view of the city's business district, taken from an airplane and another shows the prosperous condition of the levee.

The supplements were printed by the Alco Gravure, Inc. of New York, for the nominal cost of $1,000. This money was contributed by A. L. Parker, of the Memphis Hotel company, the American Bag company, the Van Vleet-Mansfield Drug company, the Tri-State Hotel company and the Southern Art corporation, all of whom are enthusiastic with the spirit of boosting Memphis throughout the United States.

The supplements were planned by Sam D. Fison, publicity manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

BERLIN APATHETIC OVER ACCEPTANCE OF TERMS

LONDON, July 10.—News that the German delegation at Spa had signed the armistice to accept the allied demands relative to disarmament was received quietly in Berlin yesterday, says a Tullier dispatch to the London Times. The people, the message says, generally recognized Germany must accept the allied terms.

"The impression is general here," says the dispatch, "that it was useless to try any longer with the entente, and that it was best for the Germans to make terms with their adversaries, quickly, lest some thing should befall them. Thus, the public has shown no sign that it was particularly interested in the decision at Spa."

The Rugged Endurance of a

is traced to its Special Steels

A dollar travels a long distance in a Maxwell. For its steels last. They stand terrific road shocks. They seldom fracture. They outlive the ordinary steels.

They are made to Maxwell's own formulae, developed from thousands of laboratory tests and countless miles on the road.

They make possible the ideal construction of great strength with light weight.

The tendency today is toward light weight, the elimination of useless pounds.

It makes for better motoring. It saves money in car operation. It makes possible greater acceleration, quicker brake action, less repairs, a higher average road speed, and lower initial cost.

Maxwell, with its special steels to give not only light weight but rugged endurance, has won an ever increasing number of friends. To date nearly 400,000. In another year 100,000 more.
